

ACENET INC.

Privacy Policy

Customer privacy is extremely important to us. We strongly believe in individual's rights to privacy and that personal information is not a commodity. We will never share your personal information with any third parties for any reason. Your email addresses are not for sale or trade and are strictly guarded. All client information such as email, phone numbers, addresses, etc, is used only for internal purposes. This contact information is used to get in touch with you when necessary and for announcements. Also, financial information is collected using SSL technology and further encrypted. With us, you can assure advanced security and privacy is enforced.